

Paint Detectives: The latest analysis of the paint pigments in the Chapter House

The Leaves of Southwell Project Presents:
a talk by Professor Chris Brooke
12th January 2021
2.00pm on Microsoft Teams

Over the past two years, we have been examining the Chapter House carvings using a range of scientific methods of analysis to see if we can uncover microscopic traces of surviving paint which could indicate how the space was coloured during the medieval period. Join us as we explore the preliminary findings of the latest results.
