Welcome

Southwell Minster is the Cathedral for the Diocese of Southwell and Nottingham. With the Archbishop's Palace and Education Garden, it is an awe-inspiring, rich learning resource. Steeped in history from its Roman and Saxon beginnings, with soaring medieval Romanesque and Gothic stonework, Victorian furniture and modern sculpture, the site tells the cultural history of our country.

Outlined here are events and activities for schools, adaptable for SEND, Parish and Community groups or to suit your learning objectives. The Minster lends itself to learning in many subjects including RE (linked to the Notts Agreed Syllabus and Understanding Christianity concepts), History, Art & Literacy. Our aim is to deliver relevant, interactive sessions, giving staff the chance to relax, have a cuppa and enjoy the visit too. We look forward to welcoming you and your pupils.

With best wishes

Diana and the education team

"Children were asked to evaluate and think.... I was astounded by their observations and reflections..."

The Leaves of Southwell

In Southwell Minster reside some world-renowned medieval carvings—naturalistic leaves, woodland creatures and mythical beasts including green men....

Thanks to the Heritage Fund, we can offer free sessions to schools, including transport.

Creative Writing: outreach in school with a story teller via zoom, using the leaves as a stimulus.

Visits to the Minster: a limited pot of money enables us to fund transport for schools to come and have a day at Southwell enjoying creative activities inspired by the leaves.

Nature All Around Us: For early years, this seasonal half day of activities explores nature through songs, crafts and hands-on fun.

If you'd like to take advantage of these free sessions, please get in touch.

The Archbishop's Palace and Gardens

"We were really impressed with the organisation, enthusiasm of the staff and how welcome we were made to feel."

(Year 5 teacher, 'The Dark Book')

To the south of the Minster lie the Palace ruins. A home of the medieval Archbishops of York, the site has a stunning community garden, where we can learn and play.

The Dark Book (Key Stage 2): The year is 1108, Archbishop Gerard of York is found dead in the Palace gardens. Using evidence based enquiry, we investigate his life and death, learning about medieval life, and pass judgement on him: was he a saint or sinner?

Playing and Learning (All age groups): Fill a day with outdoor / indoor fun—green men, herbs, scavenger hunt, minibeasts, parachute games, story circle and more to suit you.

Early Years Foundation Stage

"...the volunteers were wonderful. They had a lovely manner and their prior experience of working with children clearly shone through."

(Foundation Stage teacher)

Themed, introductory visits to the Minster for our youngest visitors created with the Early Learning goals in mind. Using language and observation skills, developing awe and wonder, we take a one hour interactive tour of the Minster in small groups, with a drink, biscuit and story. For a half day we add craft and active themed games / songs.
